

LLOYD-GEORGE CALLS DOWN HUN ENVOYS

When They Offer Only Seven and a Half Billion Dollars to Allies as Reparation

(By Associated Press)
London, March 1.—Germany, through her delegates to the conference with the Allies here today, made reparation offers of approximately thirty billion gold marks or about seven and a half billion dollars. After German Foreign Minister Simons had explained the offer, Lloyd George bluntly told the Germans, "you have a complete lack of comprehension of the Allies' position and your own position. We will discuss a reply and give it to you tomorrow."

BATTLE TO DEATH ON HAZARD STREET

Hazard, Ky., Mar. 1.—Kelley Robinson, notorious mountain "bad man" made his last stand Sunday afternoon. Standing in the main street of Hazard, while a Sunday afternoon crowd paraded, he fought to the death with Deputy Sheriff John Smith and badly wounded the officer before he was felled for the last time with pistol bullets in the head. A bullet entered Smith's head but did not penetrate the brain, and he is expected to live. He will be operated on.

Robinson, who had two notches on his gun, was paroled several months ago from the penitentiary while serving a life sentence for the killing of a man named Ball, who lived at Stanton. It was the second time he had been paroled from the penitentiary while serving sentences for homicide, it is said.

Robinson came to Hazard from Jackson and in a drunken stupor flashed his gun in the faces of several persons in the restaurant of his brother John Robinson, according to witnesses. He was warned by officer and threatened with arrest. He was led by the officers to the edge of town and told not to come back to the business section.

He did come back and when approached by Deputy Sheriff Smith opened fire and met prompt response from the officer, whose stand cannot be described as other than heroic. With bullets splintering windows of down town stores the men fought until Robinson was fatally wounded.

They emptied their guns standing twenty feet apart. While his life blood ran upon the ground Robinson's wife and two children arrived and stood over him as he died. Smith was hit twice and Robinson three times.

Smith is 22 years old. He is married, as was Robinson, who was 30 years old.

Jars Carried By Church Folks Held Only Syrup

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 1.—Viewing a stream of men and women pouring out of the parsonage of the Rev. Thomas Chapman, pastor of the Universalist church, each carrying a bucket, fruit jar or bottle, Chief of Police Roper stopped a Sunday School superintendent and investigated the contents of one of the receptacles. But it was merely cane syrup, a barrel of which Dr. Chapman had received from South Georgia.

Captain John G. Johns Dies At Winchester

Winchester, Ky., March 1.—Captain John Graham Johns, 82, prominent resident of Winchester died here Monday. He had been in feeble health for some time, but was walking about his room when he was stricken with heart disease and died very suddenly.

Captain Johns was a native of Floyd County. He was twice married and is survived by three children of his first marriage, and by his second wife and their two sons, Captain Lindsay Johns, recently of the United States army, and Graham Johns, who is in Phoenix, Ariz., for his health. Mrs. Johns was in Arizona at the time with her son at the time of her husband's death, and funeral arrangements will await her arrival in Winchester.

State Regent of D. A. R. Dies At Louisville Home

Louisville, March 1.—Mrs. Lily Pyles McCarty, 65, wife of James Wilder McCarty, state regent of Kentucky for the Daughters of the American Revolution, died at her residence on Sherwood avenue. She had been ill several months.

MADISON HIGH DOWNS WINCHESTER HIGH

In one of the fastest games of the season last Friday night the Madison boys completely snowed under the Winchester boys, beating them by the one-sided score of 21 to 4. This is probably one of the biggest victories that the local boys have won, especially since Winchester has always been one of our strongest opponents. The Madison girls also put up a noble fight and are to be especially commended in being able to hold the fast Winchester girls to only a one-point lead. The score for the girls' game was 5 to 4. The opponents had both the advantage of size and experience. Both of the Madison teams have shown marked improvement in the last few games. Everyone is hoping that the boys can make a fine showing in the tournament at Winchester this week-end.

Looks Like Kentucky Will Get Big Revenue Job

Washington, March 1.—Three Kentuckians are mentioned here as possibilities for appointment as Commissioner of Internal Revenue. They are Millard F. West of Lancaster, Garrard county, now one of the five Deputy Commissioners; Maurice Galvin, Covington, campaign manager for Senator-elect Richard P. Ernst, and Chesley Searcy, chairman of the Republican Campaign Committee, Louisville.

Since failure of the President-elect to name Republican National Committeeman Alvin T. Hert, Louisville, as a member of his cabinet, some republican members of the Kentucky Congressional delegation are said to have received assurances from St. Augustine that the Internal Revenue Commissionership will be awarded to Kentucky.

Body of Oil Man Found in River

Beattyville, Ky., March 1.—Wm. E. Thompson, 56, a prominent oil lease promoter, was found on the river bank here Sunday morning. The body was partly covered with mud. He had been ill for several days, and it is believed that he became delirious and wandered to the river where he met his death. His widow and two sons survive him. The body will be taken to Newcastle, Ind., for burial Tuesday.

Bridge Gets Damage From Old Beau Who Jilted Her

Stanford, Ky., March 1.—The fact that she had married another did not prevent a jury here from rendering a verdict in favor of Mrs. Thomas Harding in her breach of promise suit against Lindsay Coffman. A year ago, Mrs. Harding, then Miss Hettie Rice, of Moreland, filed suit for $10,000 against Coffman, charging that he had broken a promise to marry her, and had married another girl. Several months ago, before the suit came up for trial, Miss Rice married. Love letters purported to have been written by Coffman were read at the trial.

DOYLESVILLE

The birthdays of Mrs. Ellen Hensley and Mrs. Robert Wall were celebrated Saturday, Feb. 26, at the home of Mrs. Hensley. Those present were: Mr. Vernon Hensley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wall, Misses Hallie Wall, Ellen Hensley, Ella Mae Wall, Bettie Hensley, Lucy Hensley, Daisy Wall, and Mae Hensley. Chenault Winkler, R. B. McCollum, Dennis McCollum, Roy Hudson, Willie McCollum, Lee Morgan, and Vernon McCollum. Many presents were received by both. We regret to know that on account of mud and sickness other friends could not come. Everyone enjoyed the music. In the afternoon the young folks entertained themselves by horseback riding. All left wishing Mrs. Hensley to entertain again soon.

SALLIE JOHNSON FREED BY JURY

Stabbing of Holt Elmore With Ice Pick is Held to Be Accidental on Part of Negress

Sallie Johnson, colored, was acquitted in circuit court late Monday on a charge of causing the death of Holt Elmore, also colored, by stabbing him in the back with an ice pick. The woman claimed that the affair was an accident, caused when they were "pranking." She claimed that while scuffling, they fell, and Elmore struck on the ice pick which she had in her hands, causing an injury which was the cause of his death. The woman was defended by Attorney John Noland.

A jury gave Frank Williams, colored, two years in the penitentiary for housebreaking. Williams is the negro who was caught after the robbery of Faris Marcum's house. The sum of $14 was obtained from Mr. Marcum's clothes. The negro had drifted into Richmond a short time before.

Olile Mainous was fined $50 and given 10 days for carrying a deadly weapon and fined $50 for disturbing a pie supper out in the country.

Richard Whitlock was acquitted on the charge of carrying a deadly weapon.

The court will be occupied nearly all of this week with criminal cases.

FERTILIZER HELPS ALL FIELDS A LOT

(By Associated Press)
Lexington, Ky., March 1.—Experiments conducted by the State College of Agriculture over a period of from three to eight years on six fields located in different sections of the state show that in all cases return from the soils of the state can be greatly increased by the use of manure, lime and phosphate with a good crop rotation according to a summary of the experiments just completed by R. E. Stephenson and made public here today.

An average of the different fields computed on a per-acre basis for a four-year rotation of corn, soy beans, wheat and clover shows that limestone produced a crop increase valued at $20.46, acid phosphate $17.60; rock phosphate $22.05; lime and phosphate together $59.46 and lime and rock phosphate together $47.30. Manure alone when used at the rate of six tons per acre per rotation gave a crop increase worth $4.06 per ton of manure, according to Mr. Stephenson. Corn was valued at $1 a bushel; wheat at 50c and hay from the soy beans and clover at $1 per hundred pounds in circulating the value of the increases.

The six experiment fields on which the investigations are conducted are located at Berea, Lone Oak, Mayfield, Russellville, Greenville and Fariston. As fertilizer treatments acid phosphate at the rate of 800 pounds per acre and rock phosphate at the rate of 1,000 pounds per acre were compared with and without lime. Lime was used alone as well as with phosphate at the rate of two tons per acre per rotation.

Results of the experiments show that most of the soils outside the central blue grass area are in need of limestone and phosphate, according to Mr. Stephenson. These fertilizers with the use of a systematic crop rotation and the return of manure and residues to keep up the supply of nitrogen and organic matter will make it possible to build up the fertility of Kentucky soils, he said.

ELECTING PRESIDENT COST TEN MILLIONS

Congressional Committee Report Shows Harding Spent $113,000 to Win Nomination

(By Associated Press)
Washington, March 1.—The 1920 costs of electing a president of the United States were approximately ten million dollars, according to the special Senate investigating committee, which today filed a report with Congress. The republicans spent eight million dollars and the democrats two million. While the committee concluded "the expenditure of these vast sums is a present and growing menace to the nation," it made no recommendation except that the election committees of the next Congress consider the question.

Of the total of nearly three million dollars spent by candidates themselves General Wood's efforts to secure the republican presidential nomination cost over a million and half; Frank O. Lowden's total was $414,000; Senator Johnson $194,000; Herbert Hoover $73,000, and President-elect Harding $113,000.

Attorney General Palmer led the democrats with $59,000, while Gov. Cox spent $22,000. Former Ambassador Gerard $14,000; Senator Owen $8,000; McAdoo nothing.

In the Senatorial and Congressional contests the democrats spent $31,000, and the republicans $375,000. Through their state committees, the republicans spent $2,000,000 against $888,000 for the democrats. Nearly a half million republican money went to New York, with $215,000 to Indiana.

The democratic expenditures were greatest in Indiana with $74,000; $63,000 in New York and nearly $63,000 in Kentucky.

LEGION CLUB ROOMS OPEN WEDNESDAY

Members of Jesse M. Dykes Post of the American Legion, are anticipating a delightful time at the regular meeting Wednesday night when the new club rooms will be formally thrown open. The club rooms are on the third floor of the Southern Bank building and have been fitted up attractively. A splendid program is being arranged for the meeting and all ex-service men and Legion members are urged to be present. The evening will be informal in every way but all the boys who attend will be made to have a good time.

RICE GROWERS PLAN TO ADVERTISE IT

To Help Sale as Food—Business Conditions Reported Better in 8th Federal District

(By Associated Press)
St. Louis, Mo., March 1.—Improvement in business conditions throughout the Eighth Federal district continued generally during the month of February, according to the monthly report of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis. Purchasing for immediate requirements is being pursued on a large scale, says the report, although sales are far under the same month in 1920.

Buying is more cautious and discriminating than ever before, the report says, the elements of speculation being completely off. Merchants are buying only what they believe their customers will want during the next 30 to 90 days with future buying failing to open at all. Manufacturers also are cautious and are making nothing for which they have not already received orders.

"A favorable development noted during the past few weeks," says the report, "has been the change in attitude of farmers in matters of marketing their products. In the cotton and tobacco sections, country merchants report that their customers are selling and paying part of their indebtedness. Generally marketing conditions of the leading staples, especially those typical of the south, are still unfavorable, but there are spurts of demand and market fluctuations which encourage liquidation and serve to relieve the stagnation which featured the closing weeks of the last year.

"Some idea of the situation prevailing in the cotton region can be had from the statement that at Little Rock, Ark., a typical marketing center, the average price per bale realized in January was $72.50 against $201.25 during the same month in 1920. Prices for leaf tobacco also show a radical slump as contrasted with a year ago, but in the immediate past a slight improvement in the demand and stiffening in values has been noted. Agitation continues through the cotton and tobacco belts to greatly reduce this year's planting. In sections where rice is raised producers are experiencing difficulty in marketing their crops and prices are discouragingly low. Arkansas rice growers are conducting a campaign of advertising with a view of increasing the popularity of rice as a food."

Unemployment conditions have shown some improvement during the month, closing down of factories being counteracted by the reopening of others.

Reductions in retail and wholesale prices were not as radical nor sweeping as those during the previous weeks, while in some lines the cuts affected only a few articles. Cotton cloths were steady with some other articles lower, canned goods weak and sugar also steady, although some merchants with heavy stocks were offering their goods at prices below current levels.

Seasonal declines were noted in eggs, vegetables and dairy products, although coming at an earlier date than usual due to the mild weather. The grain markets were reported as extremely erratic.

GRAND JURY MAKES COMPLETE REPORT

Special Body Tells of Liquor Situation in County and Returns 25 Indictments

Handing in what is said by many to be the most complete report made by a grand jury in a long time, the special grand jury reported 13 additional indictments to Circuit Court Monday and finally adjourned. A total of 25 indictments was returned.

Most of the indictments are for illegal sale or handling of liquor—the purpose for which the special grand jury was impaneled. There are five indictments for selling liquor to minors, six for unlawful sale of liquor, and one for false swearing in connection with a liquor case. Other indictments brought in are:

Nuisance 1
Adultery 2
Abandonment of infant child under 16 years of age 1
Carrying concealed deadly weapons 2
Keeping and having liquor for sale 3
Setting up game of chance 1
Suffering gaming 2
Having carnal knowledge of idiot 2

The report of the grand jury, practically in full, is as follows:
Grand Jury's Report
To the Honorable Judge of the Madison Circuit Court:

We, the grand jury, wish to make the following report:

We have questioned over one hundred witnesses about whiskey being sold in the county. About fifty per cent of the witnesses testified they had purchased whiskey, but purchased from parties unknown to them. Some witnesses testified they had purchased whiskey, but not from the parties named.

A good many of these boys under 21 years of age, while the grand jury could not obtain information as to from where they secured it, they deny knowing, yet it is the belief of the grand jury that some of the boys swore falsely. It therefore appears that when a boy starts drinking to whiskey he also prepared to commit a worse offense, and that his moral character is badly undetermined. This is a very serious condition that is existing among some of the boys in the county. Also from their testimony, it appears that most of them have been drilled by older heads as to what they should tell when questioned. If it is a crime to buy or sell whiskey, it is a worse one to teach boys to become perjurers.

It also appears there has been for sometime a constant traffic in whiskey in various places in the city and county, notably on the Big Hill pike, between town and Fort Estill, and at some of the public places in the city. Officers stationed at these places would probably have a beneficial effect. There is no doubt, from the evidence heard, that there is a great deal of whiskey being sold in the county and the city. The owners of these places, in permitting this to be done, should realize they are aiding and abetting this traffic, and are subjecting themselves to at least criticism and possible indictment, permitting such a nuisance, and they should take steps to see this practice on their premises is stopped.

It is believed that both the city and county authorities could, with benefit, have secret agents at work for the purpose of locating the sellers of whiskey. Those who buy it will not tell from whom they buy, even if they know, and those who tell are not approached by the seller, and with this condition it makes it almost impossible for a grand jury to secure sufficient evidence to return indictments.

It is also believed that if the grand jury had the services of stenographer to take down testimony given, it would increase greatly its efficiency, especially as to changing testimony or swearing to diverse statements by witnesses, as it is not possible for twelve men to hear and remember testimony alike.

The sheriff's office is to be commended for the capture of two men with quantities of whiskey at Mayde during the sitting of this grand jury, and it is hoped they will continue to demonstrate their effectiveness and zeal in capturing men of this class.

GRAND JURY REPORT

The police force of the city appears to be doing good work in capturing those who come in the city for the purpose of selling whisky, having taken into custody a good many offenders, but there are a good many men whom they do not get and it is believed that a secret agent working for the city would produce good results, as certainly no one with whisky to sell is going to approach an officer in uniform for that purpose.

A considerable number of witnesses appearing before this grand jury were summoned by parties other than the grand jury. Some of these, notably one father and three sons, from the western part of the county, were, from their appearance, reputation and testimony, of undoubted integrity and high moral character, and manifestly could not have knowledge of, or participate in any criminal act, and it is to be regretted that citizens of this character are put to the annoyance of appearing before a grand jury, when there must be others in the same neighborhood who have actual knowledge of law violations. This may lead to the assumption that persons without knowledge of violations of the law are summoned purposely in order to make it appear that there are no violations in that vicinity.

It seems to us that, through custom or habit, which is of long standing, that a thorough overhauling and remodeling of the system by which the summoning of witnesses and other detail work in connection with the proceeding of the grand jury, and of the officers in connection with it, should be at once had. Certainly all papers in connection with the work of this kind should bear a definite date, and have a definite and secure place of filing.

We concur with the Judge of this Court, in the statement made in his charge to this grand jury, that there is an organized attack on the prohibition laws of this commonwealth, and we charge the citizens of this county to use

We are of the opinion that the city police should use the utmost vigilance in apprehending automobile speeders, and those who otherwise violate the automobile laws. There may be a chance for doubt as to whether or not a driver is operating his car at excessive speed, but we see no chance for a mistake as to whether or not he is operating with his muffler cut out.

EASTERN DEFEATS BERE A COLLEGE

In a rough and tumble contest staged on the opponent's floor, the State Normal five defeated Berea College 25 to 18, Monday afternoon. The Normal team jumped into the scoring column immediately after the fracas started; McCubbin and Malloy hitting from all angles. Eastern led at the close of the first period 15 to 10. In the second half Berea came back with a strong determination to win, and it looked as though their aim might be realized when they jumped into the lead 18 to 17 near the middle of the second half, but the Normal team rallied and staged a defense that could not be penetrated and an offense that completely swept the Collegians off their feet. Eastern scored three field goals in the last two minutes of play.

Malloy having recovered from a recent illness, returned to his usual form and played a stellar role in the victory. He accounted for seven field goals, for a total of 14 points. Capt. Fox's dribbling, and his rimless basket from the middle of the floor when points were most needed, were features of the game. Combs played his usual "high jumping" game. Johnson played best for the losers.

The season closes next Monday when the Normal stacks up against the same aggregation from Berea at the local high school gymnasium.

The line-up:

Eastern	Berea
Malloy 4	F
Vandever	F
McCubbin 6	C
Fox 3	G
Combs	G

OUR GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

The Madison National Bank is 50 Years Old March 1, 1921

It is the oldest bank in Madison County. It is with great satisfaction that its officers, directors and stockholders look back along the years that have been milestones in its long and successful life, and with the same broad vision that has characterized its history in the past they look forward to increasing opportunities for service along all lines of its public endeavors and capacities.

Founded upon the broad principles of conservatism, yet always desirous of furthering every worthy enterprise and promoting every legitimate interest of its friends and patrons, they look to its future with confidence, strength and satisfaction, appreciative of the great measure of public confidence that it holds so well, and so deservedly.

Speaking of Undermuslins

UNDERMUSLINS change very little in style from year to year, but new features are introduced—and if they prove popular—gradually establish themselves. The demand has swung away from substantial, weighty fabrics to those that are light and half-transparent, from all-white to flesh color and pink, from cottons toward silk, and there is a steadily growing appreciation of handwork in underthings. New ways of making garments and new kinds of garments have encroached on familiar styles and are taking their places. This is the case with bloomers and petticoats that have now become rivals of the petticoat, and, along with the growth of their popularity comes that of camisoles. Together they take the place of the chemise.

Bloomers find a readier sale than petticoats because they are shorter and very practical for wear with street clothes. They are made in the same materials as those used for making petticoats, including satin, in plain and changeable weaves, silk jersey cloth, saten and batiste. In silks the colors chosen for them are usually dark. They are simply made and easily adjusted without buttons and buttonholes. Shirrings over elastic cord or tape serve to hold them in place at the waist and below the knees. In white or pink batiste they are usually trimmed with a frill of lace at the knees, and occasionally a band of satin in a pale color, is placed above the frill with hemstitching joining the two materials. The very up-to-date young lady shown in the picture above is an adherent of the fashion for wearing bloomers under street clothes.

Beautiful Reception In Panama.

The following clipping from a Panama paper will be of interest to friends of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Turley, who are spending a month with Major Turley and Mrs. Turley in the Canal Zone. It says:

From the forenoon of yesterday to the early hours of this morning, the navy, the civilians, and army were hard at it having one perfectly good time. Possibly the most original and delightful entertaining done for an Admiral even, was the all day reception of yesterday given by Judge and Mrs. Blackburn at their picturesque quarters of Las Cascadas Road. This most attractive of parties was given in honor of Admiral Rodman, a life long friend of the Blackburns, and from their native state of Kentucky. The lunch, a buffet one, was served from a table attractively set with cakes and candies and other dainties and surrounded with ferns and the pink of the hyacinth, and the white of the star flower giving a pretty touch to the table. Army and navy and civilians were there in large numbers to greet the Admiral both at midday and in the afternoon, for the reception of the Admiral, was continued all day with the exception of the few afternoon hours taken up by the big base ball game that all the Admirals attended. Quite impossible would it be to give a list of all the distinguished people who called to pay their respects to Admiral Rodman and Judge and Mrs. Blackburn, but among those from Panama were the President of the Republic and Mrs. Porras, the Secretary of State, the Hon. Narciso Garay, the American Minister, the Hon. W. P. Price, the Hon. Constantine Graham, General Kennedy, and some from a distance who attended were Miss Alice Morrow, of New York, sister of the Governor of the Panama Canal, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Turley, of Richmond, Ky., Mrs. Rittnehouse Moore, of Mobile, Ala., Mrs. H. H. Price, of Kentucky, and many representatives of the army, navy, and Canal Zone government here. Judge and Mrs. Blackburn are ideal hosts, and Mrs. Blackburn was dear and dainty in a white lingerie frock, and Mrs. Hamilton, who served punch, was most attractively gowned in white net.

Mrs. WAGNER of PALM BEACH

Tells Girls How She Found Relief From Pain

West Palm Beach, Fla.—"When I was 19 years old I was irregular and I had such terrible cramps it felt like a knife going through me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I was cured. After I was married I had the same trouble caused by the added work of farming and heavy washings so I told my husband to get six bottles of the Vegetable Compound and by taking it regularly my troubles ceased and now I never have a pain or ache, and am regular. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and think every young girl should take it. You can publish this letter and it may be the means of helping some other girl or woman."

—Mrs. MARY M. WAGNER, Box 759, West Palm Beach, Florida.

While no woman is entirely free from periodic suffering it does not seem to be the plan of nature that woman should suffer so severely and when pain exists something is wrong which should be set right. Every girl who suffers from monthly cramps should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

"WE ARE GROWING"

IN THE MOVIES

Ed wasn't a bad boy—he was just unlucky. Things always seem to happen when he was around, though goodness knows, he never tried to start anything. They kept telling him he was the worst boy in the school. And after a while he believed it! That made him sort of reckless, naturally. He had such a bad reputation that he didn't care what happened, though down in the bottom of his heart he knew he was not a bad boy, and he really wanted to behave and get along peacefully. You see how it is; telling a kid he's bad is discouraging. Discouragement was all that ailed Ed when he ran away. Don't fail to see Ed (played by the boy who played Huck Finn) in the biggest boy film ever made—"The Soul of Youth"—at the Opera House tonight.

What's the Use?
I dream the radiator.
And keep the batteries filled.
I watch the tire inflator—
I keep the knocking stilled!
I grease the differential.
The springs, the fan, the clutch.
I watch the small essential—
The timer, bands and such.
I watch the road for bridges.
For crossings I slow down.
I straddle ruts and ridges—
I'm careful when in town.
In neutral gear I place her.
Whenever I must stop.
I never try to race her—
Or let the back-fire pop.
AT TRYING I keep busy.
But for my very life
I can't drive OUT old Lizzie
To suit the blooming' wife.

Elderly People Need This In Medicine Chest

To relieve chronic constipation, always keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin handy.

NEARLY all people as they advance in age suffer from chronic constipation. Many, however, are indifferent to the laxative they use, on the theory that "they are all alike." That is a great mistake.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, for example, is a mild, gentle liquid laxative, and it does not lose its effect with repeated use. It so trains the bowel muscles that in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with.

A sixty-cent bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will last many months. The prescription was written thirty years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, a well-known family doctor, who is himself now in his 82nd year and can appreciate what chronic constipation must mean to elderly people; how it brings on headaches, colds, loss of appetite and sleep, heaviness and a general dull feeling.

Every home that has an elderly man or woman should be provided with a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Eight million bottles were bought at drug stores last year. It is a truly wonderful constipation remedy.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois. Every body now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

Thought Son Was Burglar, Shot Him Dead At Door

Somerset, Ky., March 1.—W. L. Bell, of Sloan Valley, in the southern part of this county, mistaking his 11 year old son for a burglar, shot him dead as he was entering the room where his parents were sleeping. The boy had gone out into the yard, leaving home quietly in order not to disturb the slumber of his parents, and was softly opening the door to their room on his way back when the father awoke, and hearing the noise, thought it was a burglar trying to gain entrance. The bullet penetrated the boy's heart, killing him instantly. The boy had gone to a well for some water. The father is almost distracted from grief.

PARENT-TEACHERS' BODY IS WORKING

(By Associated Press) Louisville, Ky., March 1.—The State Parent-Teacher Association of Kentucky is engaged in an effort to raise the standard of the schools in the state and the educational standing, through co-operation of parents and schools, according to Mr. George Weldon of Louisville, who has just announced a campaign looking to the organization of Parent-Teacher Associations in every county and district in Kentucky. "Theoretically," she says, "the interest of parents will do much toward improving the obscure schools that ordinarily escape observation of agencies working for their improvement. Therefore, the establishment wherever possible of a Parent-Teacher body is desirable."

It is estimated, she said, that the associations will require $3,000 to carry on work already outlined. A friend in another state has offered to give the association one-half of the amount needed, provided the other half is raised in the state. Mrs. Weldon said in appealing to citizens to contribute the amount necessary.

THIS BIRD WAS A REAL RECRUITER

(By Associated Press) Washington, March 1.—When Edward M. Bentley, Chicago law student, enlisted in the army for the war, he went in lock, stock and barrel and the whole 205 pounds of him. He got to France with the First Division, became Sergeant Bentley, was wounded and came home to conduct a single-handed recruiting campaign in the south that has backed all previous exploits of the kind off the map.

The sergeant conceived the idea of "hiking" through the Blue Ridge mountains in search of good soldier material. He was at it eight months. When he wound up with a stay at the Walter Reed hospital here to recover from the exhausting effects of the experience, he was shy 54 pounds in weight, had spent $2,000 of his own money, worn out 17 pairs of army shoes, been shot at by a suspicious mob of shiners, but had enrolled 1,107 of whom had passed muster and are now in the army.

Incidentally, the suspicious young shiner who took a shot at the recruit, Bentley talked it out with him over a nip of the mountain dew and said he had turned a poor whisky maker into a good soldier.

The Best Laxative

BILIOUS CHILDREN

Black-Draught, Long in Successful Use, Praised by an Arkansas Mother, "Soon Does Its Work."

Marmaduke, Ark.—Speaking of Theodor's Black-Draught, which from long use in her household has become regarded as "the family medicine," Mrs. Mary E. Hill, of Route 1, this place, says:

"When the children get bilious, I give them a couple of good doses, and when we have sour stomach, headache, or any liver or stomach trouble, we use Black-Draught. It is an easy laxative, and soon does the work. I certainly think it is one of the best remedies made."

Black-Draught acts on the liver, gently, but positively, and helps it in its important function of throwing out waste materials and poisons from the system. In thousands of households Black-Draught is kept handy for immediate use in time of need. Prompt treatment often is half the battle, and will often prevent slight ills from developing into serious troubles.

Its well-established merit, during more than 70 years of successful use, should convince you of the helpful effects obtainable by taking Black-Draught for liver and stomach disorders. Get a package today, and keep it in your house. See that the package bears the words "Theodor's Black-Draught." NO. 141

SWEAR OFF TOBACCO

"No-To-Bac" has helped thousands to break the costly, nerve-shattering tobacco habit. Whenever you have a longing for a cigarette, cigar, pipe, or for a chew, just place a harmless No-To-Bac tablet in your mouth instead, to help relieve that awful desire. Shortly the habit may be completely broken, and you are better off mentally, physically, financially. It's so easy, so simple. Get a box of No-To-Bac and if it doesn't relieve you from all craving for tobacco in any form, your druggist will refund your money without question.

SAD DEATH OF MRS. BETTIE A. SCHRAMM

The death of Mrs. Bettie Azbill Schramm, Saturday, February 26, at the Christian church parsonage Berea, Ky., where Mr. and Mrs. Schramm had been occupying rooms for a few weeks, was a sad shock to her family and many friends.

Death came as a result of childbirth. In spite of the best care and medical skill, the child as well as the mother passed away.

The funeral services were held at the Christian church parsonage Monday, the 28th, and in the beautiful little cemetery of Berea they were laid to rest until the great awakening. The services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Hudspeeth, Rev. C. H. VanWinkle and Prof. J. R. Robertson.

Betty Schramm was one of Kentucky's most beautiful and honored women. She was artistic and fine in temperament, a lover of beautiful flowers and the beauties of nature in every form appealed to her.

She was a lover of art and fine painting. She was no mean artist herself, but her heart was in her home and the full expression of talents was expended on her beautiful home in Willoughby, near Cleveland, a place of such exquisite beauty that strangers came as well as her friends to look upon it and to enjoy its beauty.

Betty loved her home and her husband with a love beyond measure. It was one of the strongest traits of her strong nature, still she wanted a child to make the home complete. It was not to be, God in his infinite wisdom called her and the little one to a home not made with hands, eternal in heaven.

Betty was so loyal to her great love to her husband, family and many friends, that she will live in their memories and their hearts forever. Her sunny temperament, her sweet loving disposition, her beautiful little smile, will shine forever through the shadows to comfort our broken hearts: We do not say goodbye; we know she is not dead, but sleepeth: So, hush, I will give you this leaf to keep: See, I shut it inside the sweet cold hand! There, that is our secret, go to sleep: You will wake and remember and understand!

Corn Seed Warning

(By Associated Press) Louisville, Ky., March 1.—Preliminary tests of corn cribs and corn hung out of doors shows that such corn this year is of a lower germinating percentage than had been suspected, according to County Agent A. E. Merriman, who made the tests. He has issued warning to farmers of this section of the state to take particular care in selecting their seed for 1921 planting.

According to Mr. Merriman the corn contains a larger percentage of moisture which seems to have dried out slower than usual, rendering the seed inferior. Severe weather from November 11 to November 13 and the late maturity of much of the crop is responsible for the injury to the seed, according to the warning. Seed selected early in the field is satisfactory but late damp corn stored inferiorly is to be avoided, he said.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

THE FORD RUNABOUT

THE Ford Runabout needs no advertising. About all we have to do is to tell you we can supply the demand with something like promptness and the selling is over. We have never been able to get enough from the factory to meet the demand and do not suppose we ever will get enough. There are more than four million five hundred thousand Ford cars in operation today, and of this number about three hundred thousand are in foreign countries, the rest right here in America, but we have one hundred and five to one hundred and ten millions of people and it looks from the way demand comes in that we will have to sell that many Runabouts before we can satisfy that demand.

It is one great, little utility. It fits into every man's wants, from the physician to the worker in the factory, from the country blacksmith to the millionaire railroad owner, from the contractor and his employees to the millionaire sporting men's entourage, almost as necessary these days as the handkerchief.

RICHMOND MOTOR COMPANY INC.

JOHN BROWN'S EXPENSES CHEAP IN SLAVERY DAYS

(By Associated Press)

Frankfort, Ky., March 1.—Traveling expenses and clothing were "dirt cheap" in the days when John Brown of Harper's Ferry fame had his agents traveling in the south trying to stir up a revolt against slavery, as compared with today, judging from an expense account kept by a messenger for one of these agents and found in the files of Governor B. Magoffin, who was governor of Kentucky in 1859. The expense account, together with a letter to Brown and a letter from the man's wife, were picked up on a train by some person and mailed anonymously to Gov. Henry A. Wise, of Virginia, who sent copies to Gov. Magoffin.

The expense account contained a notation of transportation from New Orleans to Cincinnati costing $1. The fare between those two points at present is more than $32. An overcoat costing $6.50; boots $4.50; two pairs of pants at $3.75 and $2.50; suspenders at 50 cents; four pairs of socks at $1; hair cut 25 cents and cigars 50 cents were listed. Merchants who were asked about the various items stated that it is probable that the same grades of clothing this man bought would cost today from three to five times as much as at that time.

Parents Kidnap Runaway Bride

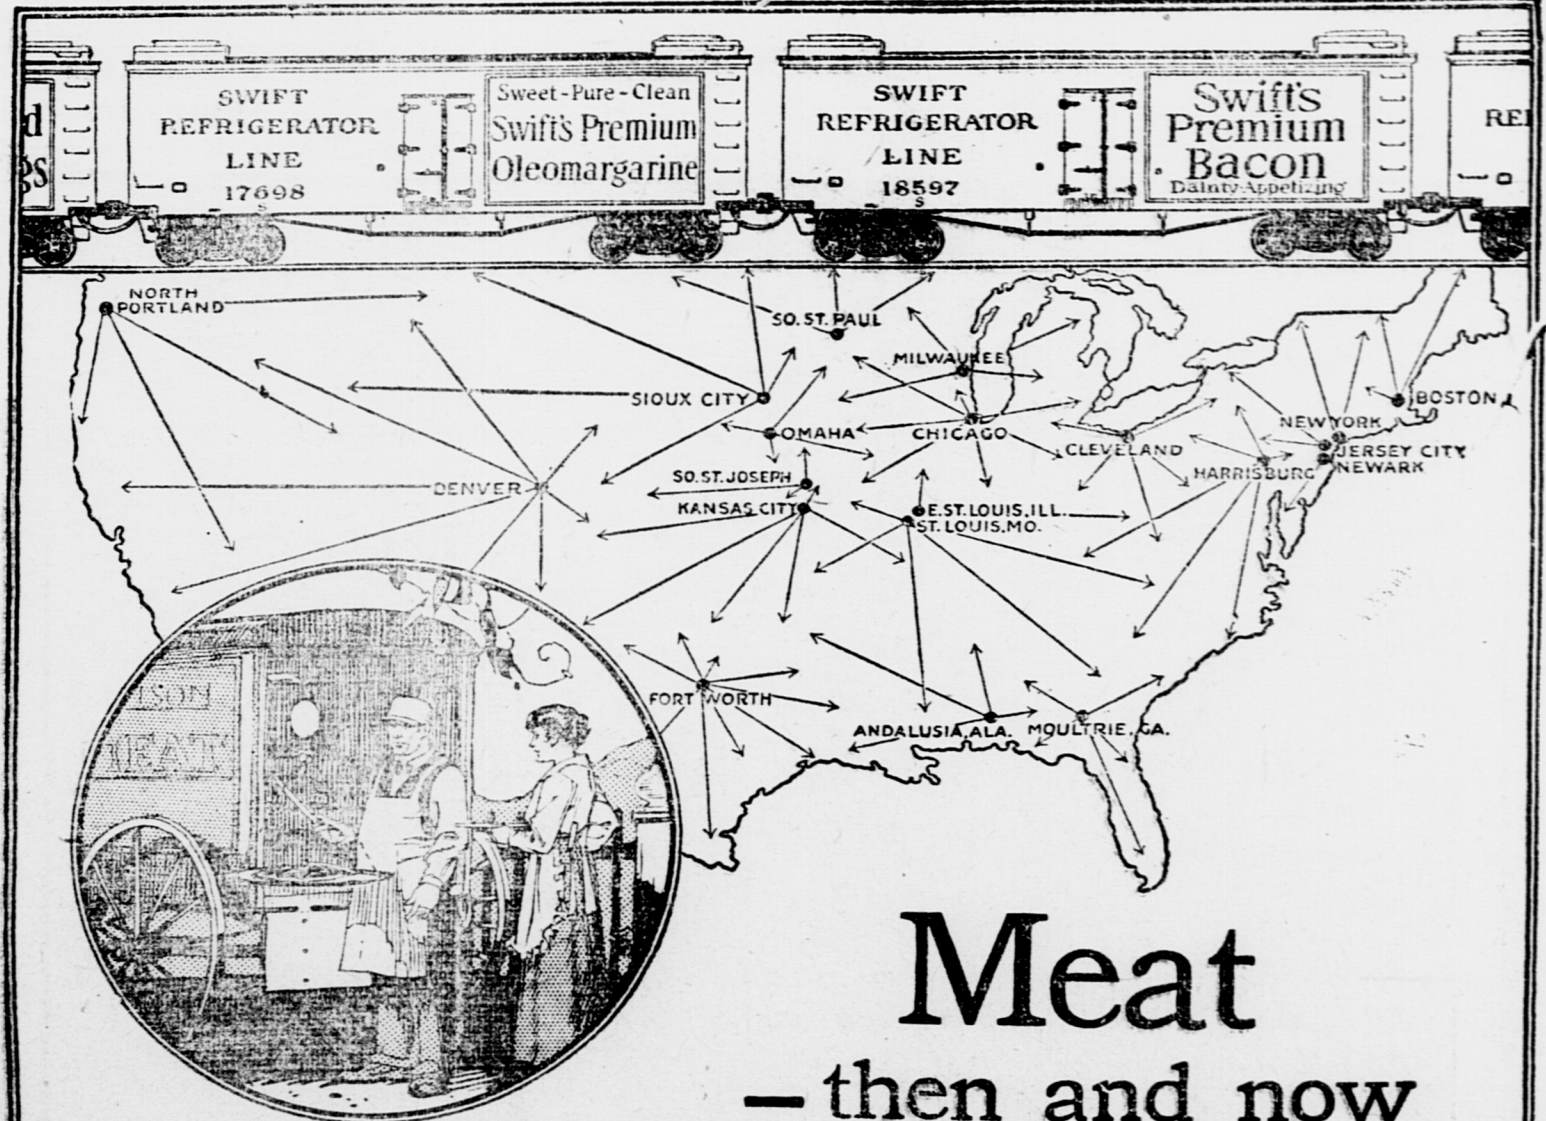

Shelbyville, Ky., Mar. 1.—Miss Mittie Harris, 14, daughter of Will Harris, and Wayne Roberts, 19 year old son of Wm. Roberts, eloped to Jeffersonville Friday, and were married by a magistrate. They returned here the same evening and went to the home of the bridegroom's parents. The following afternoon the bride's parents took possession of her when she returned home for her clothes, and over her protests, took her in an automobile to Louisville, where she was placed in a Catholic school. They will seek to have the marriage annulled.

Meat — then and now

THE meat peddler of the old days, who killed his own live stock and then sold the meat from the tail of a cart, is gone from our larger towns and cities. He was a pioneer and did good service but he couldn't keep up with his job. Crude methods had to give way to new ideas in sanitation and distribution. Concentration of population drove the peddler and his wagon out and brought the modern packing industry and the neighborhood retailer in his place. And the modern packing business means this: That near the farms and ranches, the centers of live stock production, are packing plants that assemble and manufacture the meat products you use.

That swift and sanitary refrigerator cars carry your meat from these packing plants to every part of the country.

Dealers in towns and villages are supplied directly and regularly from these refrigerator cars.

And in cities the refrigerator car is unloaded into branch houses, chilled and sanitary, from which deliveries are made to your meat shop. And all the time the meat is kept so chilled that deterioration is prevented.

Swift & Company's plants and branches are co-ordinated, interchanging supply and supporting each other, when necessary, so that no section of the country may ever lack its daily meat.

Visiting Over The Telephone

When telephone users hold the lines for an unnecessarily long period of time, the result is delay and annoyance due to repeated "busy" reports.

Particularly is this true in the case of party line telephones.

Brevity in telephone conversations and releasing a party line when requested to do so, will assist us in our effort to improve your service.

Right now when the switchboards are congested on account of a serious shortage of equipment, every useless call and every unnecessarily long conversation hampers the service that much more.

Children and servants should not be permitted to block your line with idle telephone conversations.

VEXATION OF SPIRIT

"WHEN I was in business," said the retired merchant, "I never had time to read much, and I used to look forward to the glad day when I could revel in literature. I felt sure I'd be entirely happy. I used to jot down the titles of books I intended to read, and when I retired from business I had a list as long as the Russian battle line.

"And now that I can read all I want to, I don't get any enjoyment out of books. They bore me the worst way. I get sleepy as soon as I begin to read, and my wife comes and tells me my snoring is disturbing the neighbors."

"It's that way with everything we look forward to," observed the hotel-keeper, sadly. "Man always will be, but is never blest, as some half-baked poet remarked. Young Gooseworthy was in here last evening, bubbling over with happiness. There wasn't anybody around, so he took me into his confidence. He's going to marry Gwendolin Jimalong next month, and he's perfectly satisfied that his married life will be one long stretch of sunshine. He seems to have the idea that he's going to do something original when he gets married, but the idea isn't new. Men have been getting married ever since Christopher discovered Columbus, Ohio, and every doggone man jack of them had the idea that everlasting bliss was going to be inaugurated on the wedding day.

"I listened to Gooseworthy for three hours, and hadn't the heart to say anything that would dampen his enthusiasm. His twittering recalled the long vanished days when I was getting ready to be married. I felt about it then just as he does now. I thought the parson opened the gates of paradise when he joined two loving hearts. My wife lived up to all the plans and specifications, and was and is one of the best women in the United States, but I hadn't been married three months before I had a sneaking conviction that the man who gets married is a chump.

"A good many optimists say that a married man doesn't need any more money than a single one, if he marries the right sort of woman, but they might as well go to the blackboard and demonstrate that two and two make two, instead of four. I fell for that cheerful theory when I was married. I was earning enough to keep myself comfortably, and never had any financial worries. I could have been buried for less money than it took to be married, and the expenses from that time forward were double what they used to be, although my wife was so economical she used to make waists and such things for herself out of my superannuated shirts.

"Oh, doggone it, there isn't any unadulterated happiness in matrimony. I wonder that young fellows like Gooseworthy don't look around them, and contemplate the dejected appearance of the majority of husbands. But ever if they did, it wouldn't do them any good, I suppose, for they are full of pipe dreams, and they think the girls are going to marry are different from all other girls, and that they will prove exceptions to the general rule.

"I had a wise old uncle in those halcyon days, and about a week before the wedding day, he backed me into a corner and handed me a dust-proof package of wisdom. He tried to lead me into taking a sensible view of the future. He talked about the cares and responsibilities that would be mine after the wedding, and wanted to know if I felt equal to them. He tried to show me that I wasn't going to marry an angel, but a human being like myself, with a human being's faults and frailties.

"I let him get that far, and then I told him that his gray hairs alone saved him from having his head re-modeled, and said I never wanted him to darken my door, and he never did I had to darken it myself, with wal nut stain. But many a time after ward, I recalled his wise words and wept over his grave."

Can Use Whisky In Medicines

Washington, March 1—Whisky and other liquors may be used in the manufacture, under permit, of certain patent medicines and toilet preparations, Attorney General Mitchell Palmer has ruled in an opinion submitted to Secretary David F. Houston.

Suggestion by Mr. Houston that Congress, in permitting the use of liquors for such purposes, meant to limit the word "liquor" to alcohol, was controverted by the Attorney General.

Liquor, as defined by the prohibition act, Mr. Palmer ruled, includes alcohol, brandy, whisky, rum, gin, beer, ale, porter and wine, but not such liquids containing less than one half of one per cent of alcohol.

The products in which, under the ruling, whisky and other liquors may be used are medical preparations manufactured in accordance with formulas prescribed by the United States Pharmacopoeia; patent and proprietary medicines, unfit for use as beverages, and toilet, medicinal and antiseptic preparations, unfit for beverage purposes.

HIGH SCHOOL BASKET BALL TOURNAMENT

(By Associated Press)

Lexington, Ky., March 1.—High schools which want to enter their teams in the annual High School basketball tournament of the Kentucky Interscholastic Athletic Association at the University of Kentucky March 11 and 12 must do so by winning their sectional tournaments, according to statement given out by Prof. S. A. Boles, director of athletics at the university. The handling of the tournament is entirely in hands of the officials of the association, he said.

"Many schools have written to us asking if it were possible to enter their teams directly in the tournament," said Prof. Boles. "They must enter by winning their way through the district tournament of the section in which they live. The tournament is entirely in the hands of the intercollegiate Athletic Association and their rules are that contestants must have won their way at the state tournament through the district tournaments."
